Multi-Camera Live Production Specialist

Here at Mfalme Studio we offer a one stop solution for your multi-camera live streaming production needs.

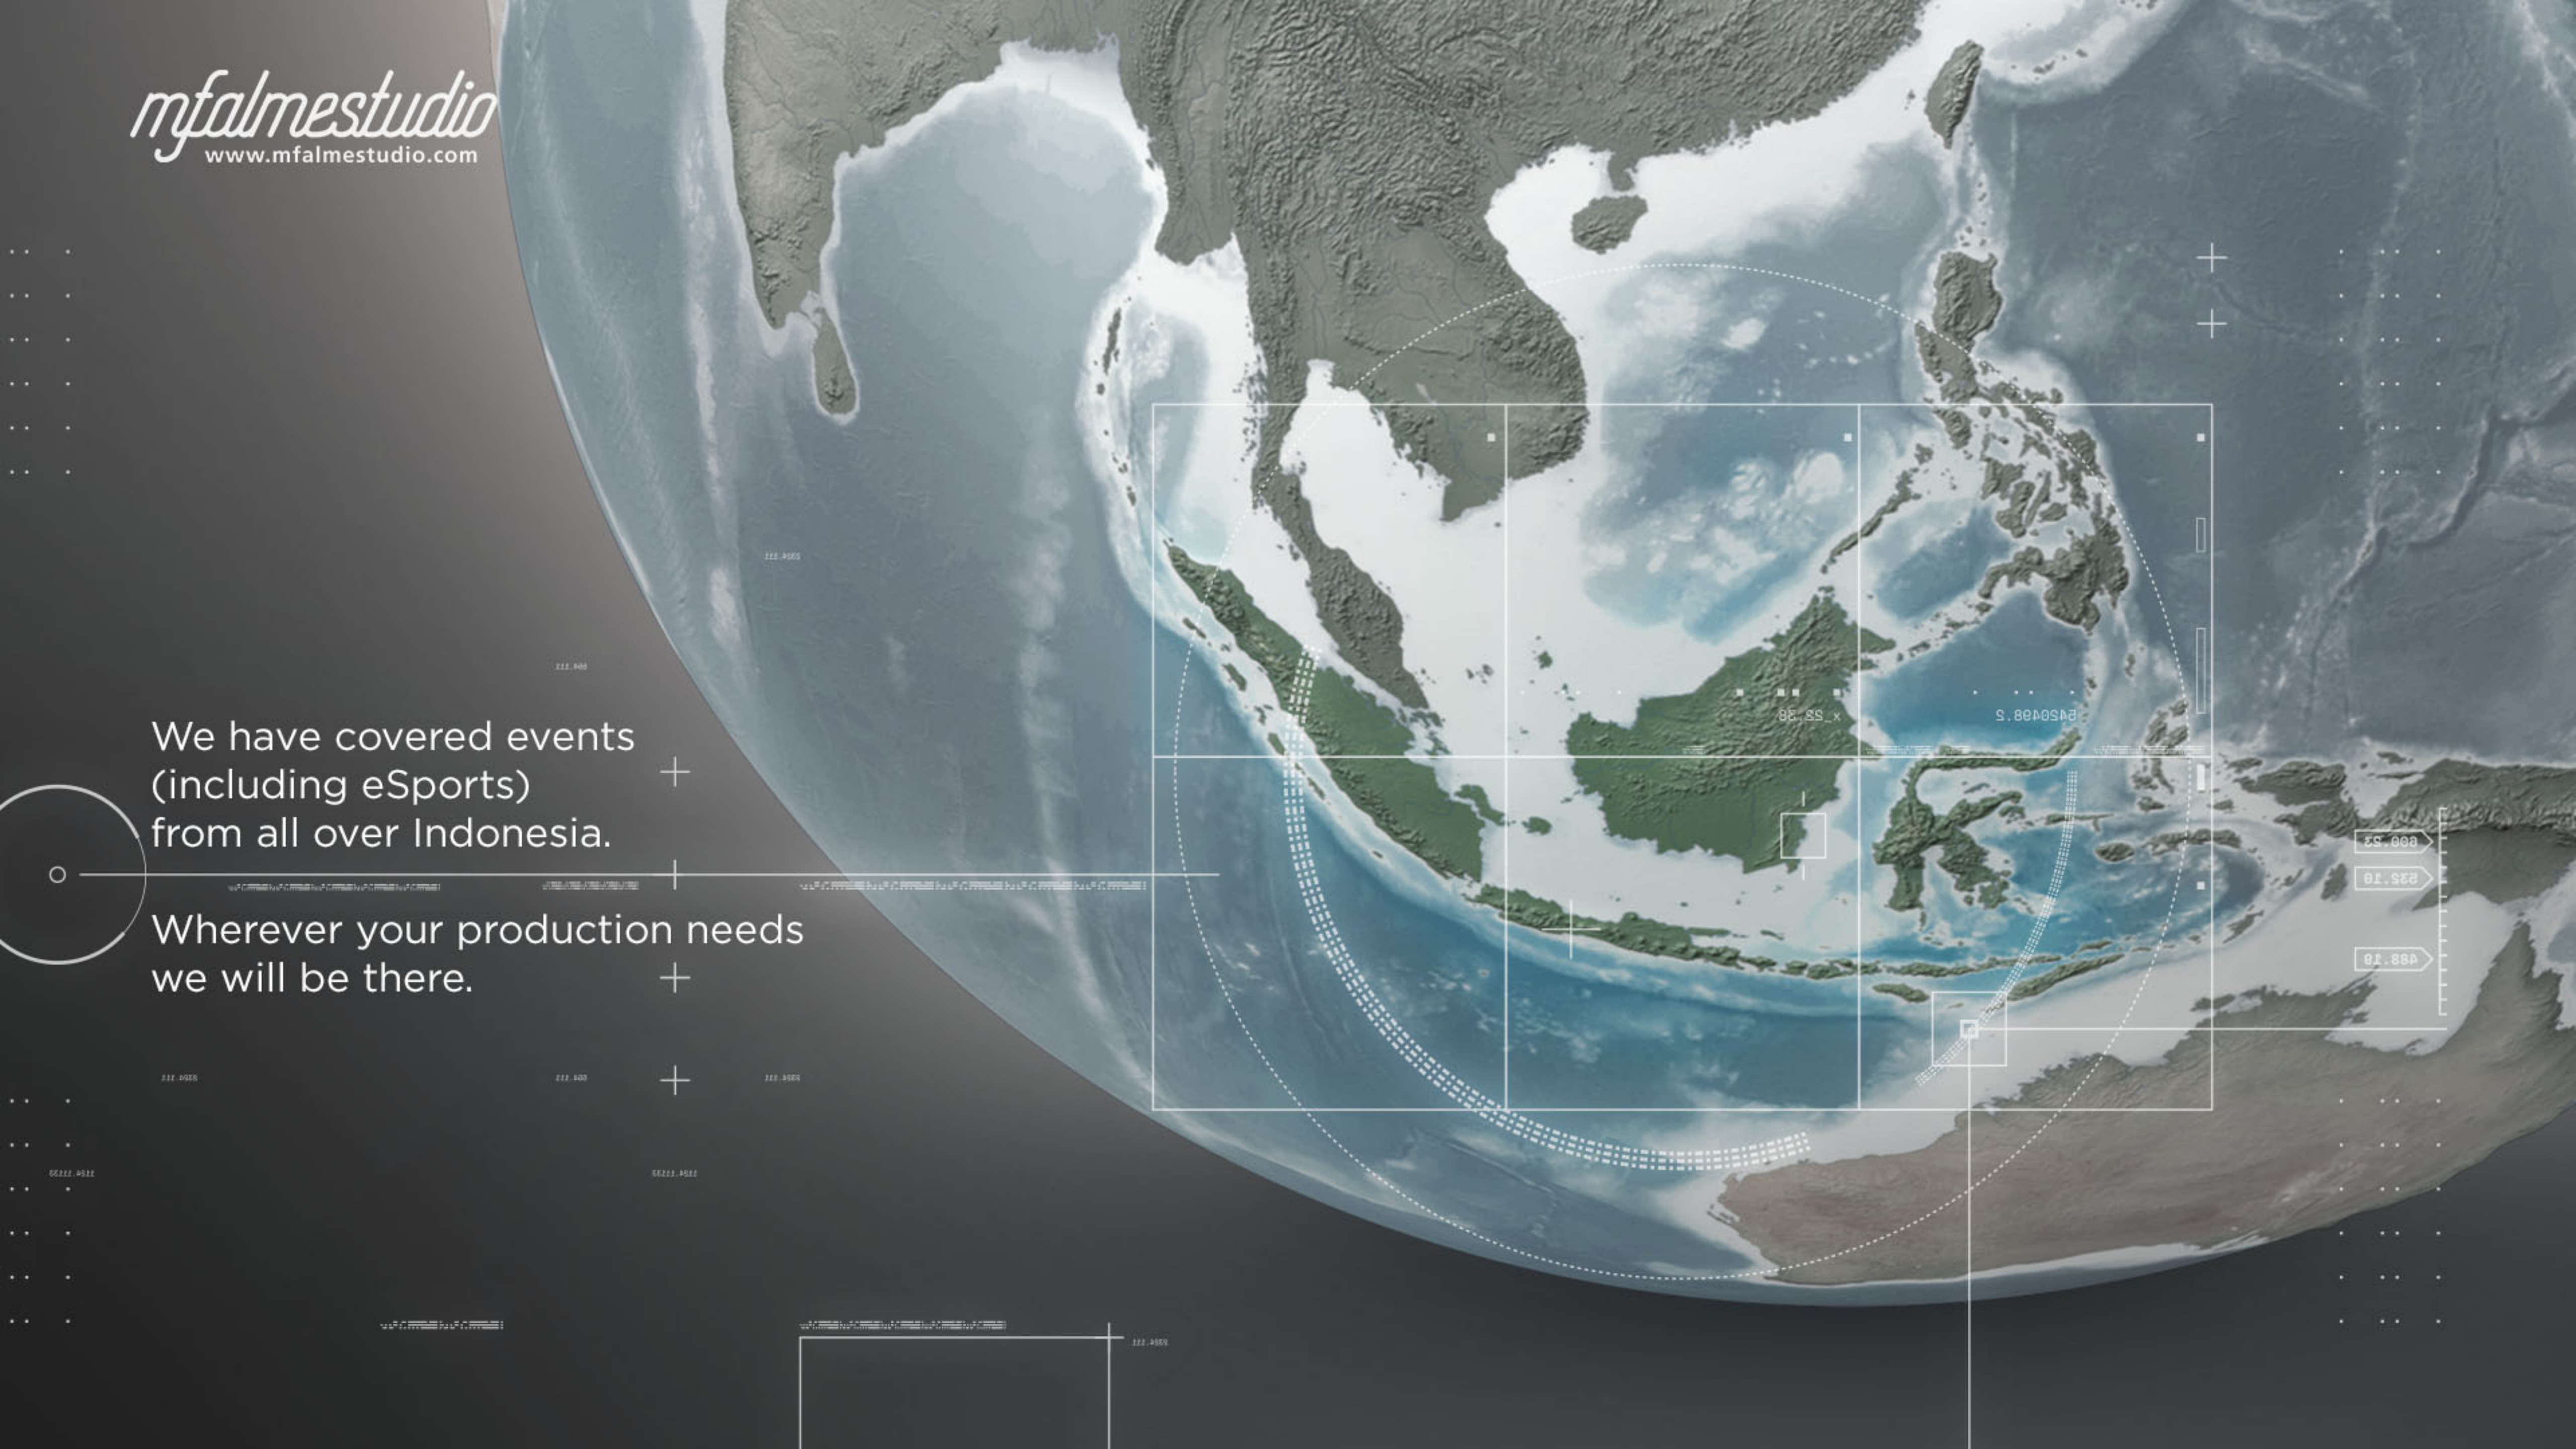

Founded in March 2018, though still considered start-up the core team consists of a seasoned crew that have successfully produced live streaming productions for big brands since Facebook first introduced their live streaming feature in 2016.

We strive to provide the best service possible by including the latest tech in our productions while keeping our prices very competitive.
